

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

Event Production Services Appoints Business Development / Production Manager for East Coast operations.

Austin, TX, - November, 2009 – Event Production Services (EPS), a leader in event production, promotion, planning, and management services for turnkey events, has hired Robyn Gould as Manager of Business Development / Production for east coast operations. EPS operations will be managed and based out of New York City.

Prior to joining the EPS team, Robyn had a successful career as a professional snowboarder and the host of Resort Sports Network's Morning Show as the "Mountain Morning Girl". A life-changing snowboarding accident led her to a successful career in radio. Robyn has spent the last 10 years in the TV and radio industry, currently a producer and on-air personality with Sirius/XM Radio in New York City.

Combining her love for music and talent in talk radio production, she has been the catalyst for many successful live events. Rounding out with involvement in band management and promotion, Robyn brings a wealth of experience and enthusiasm to any project that she is involved with.

Jeff Miller, Founder/Director of Events, on the newest staff member. "We are very excited to have Robyn on the team. We look forward towards long-term growth and new opportunities nationwide with Robyn onboard".

For additional information on Robyn Gould or EPS, please contact Jeff Miller or visit <http://www.eventproductionservicestx.com>

ABOUT EPS – For the last 7 years, EPS has been a leader in event production, promotion, planning and management services for turnkey events and festivals.

EPS Contact:

Jeff Miller

Phone: 512.828-7551

Fax: 866.334.0642

Email: jeff@epstx.net

www.eventproductionservicestx.com

- END -